What will YOU do when the lights go out?

A catastrophe has befallen your business. Whether it was man-made or of natural origin, your reputation is now on the line, and people are desperate for details. It's not wise to first realize you have a crisis when you see the TV network satellite vehicles arriving in your car park. During an emergency you do what you have to do - but it's better to do what you planned to do. Being ready for this eventuality is what matters.

Representatives from all media: The press, radio, television, internet blogs are descending on your office headquarters and demanding something: a statement, a sound bite, a reaction, a reason...

You have to say something. But don't let it be just anything. A well-crafted news release depends on having a crisis-communication plan in place, and whatever you do or say now should reflect the directives of that plan. We at 3Ci Global Solutions provide you with that plan and the training and the best platform to get your message right first time and across all means of press and media outlets.

We ride that storm with you until normality quickly returns.
